

GUIDELINES FOR PRESERVING ANONYMITY WITH DOUBLE-BLIND SUBMISSION:

Remove the names and affiliations of authors from the title page of the PDF file that you will submit for review. During the review manuscript submission, you need to include all the author details only at the CMT registration page. The PDF file of the review manuscript should not have the author information.

Remove acknowledgments of identifying names and funding sources from the PDF file that you will submit for review. This information can be included in the final camera-ready manuscript if your paper gets accepted.

Remove project titles or names that can be used to trace back to the authors via a web search engine.

Use care in naming your files. Source file names (e.g., “Alice-n-Bob.dvi”) are often embedded in the final output as accessible comments.

Use care in referring to your previous works as related works. Do not omit references to provide anonymity, as this leaves the reviewer unable to grasp the context. Instead, you can reference your past work in the third person format, just like any other piece of related work by another author. For example, instead of “In a previous work [10], we have presented a data diffusion methodology ...,” sentences in the spirit of “In a previous work [10], the authors have presented a data diffusion methodology ...” should be used or “XYZ et al. [10] have presented a data diffusion methodology ...”

Papers with the same title and abstract should not be posted on a public website, such as arxiv.org, or transmitted via public mailing lists.
